Dear Mr James:

I am writing to express my keen interest in applying for the Data Science Internship position at MoneyLion for the upcoming summer break.

As a second-year Data Science student at Asia Pacific University of Technology and Innovation with a strong academic record (3.52/4.0 CGPA), I am eager to contribute to a leading fintech company like MoneyLion. Your commitment to financial empowerment through innovative solutions resonates with my desire to leverage data for positive impact.

My coursework has equipped me with expertise in statistics, machine learning, and data visualization, which I'm eager to apply in a real-world setting. Additionally, my leadership experience as winner in the past participated events has honed my communication and teamwork skills.

Intrigued by MoneyLion's business model, I believe my analytical skills and passion for data can significantly contribute to your data-driven decision-making.

I am enthusiastic about the possibility of joining MoneyLion and welcome the opportunity to discuss my qualifications further. Please contact me at 016-7359116 to schedule a convenient time.
